SUSPECT IN BURGLARY IS IDENTIFIED AS FUGITIVE

The burglars who Wednesday evening broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Flesman, Gettysburg R. 1, and stole food, clothing and a rifle apparently are still in Cumberland Twp. and residents of the township who saw them and found the Flesman's food in a bag the men dropped are convinced that at least one of the men looks very much like one of the prisoners who escaped from the Adams County jail Sunday night.

Donald and Earl Leatherman, Gettysburg R. 2, were at Donald's home Thursday evening when they heard the door of Donald's car slam. They rushed out and saw two men standing beside the car. The men asked the way to Gettysburg and the Leathermans told them.

When the two strangers trudged off "up the hill," Donald Leatherman turned on the searchlight of his car for a better look at them. Friday, when he was shown various photos by police in an attempt to determine who the men were, Earl Leatherman identified a picture of one of the prisoners who escaped from the jail here Sunday night as "one of them."

Stolen Goods Found

While the Leathermans were talking to the two strangers, Mrs. Richard Waybright entered the home of her father-in-law nearby and told Commissioner-elect Clarence J. Waybright that two strange men had passed, one bearing a pack on his back. Commissioner Waybright went in search and saw the two men trudging across a field at the Wilbert Baker farm but soon lost sight of them.

Search by Waybright, the Leathermans and others in the area located the bag one of the men had been carrying. It was found in a woods near the spot where Donald Leatherman's searchlight had spotted the men. The bag contained ham and other food taken from the home of John Flesman. Nearby they also found a white shirt. It had been taken from the Flesman home.

The Leatherman brothers said the two strangers had hay and straw on them as if they had been sleeping in a barn.

Local Church To Mark Bible Sunday

"The Bible Tells Us So" will be the theme for the Sunday morning sermon of the Rev. Robert A. Macaskill in the Presbyterian Church here where Universal Bible Sunday will be observed. He will preach at the 8:30 and 10:45 o'clock services and the adult choir will sing at both services.

In the Church School Sunday morning, pledges will be received for the Youth Budget in 1960. Pupils who do not turn in pledges in the morning will be visited during the afternoon.

LIONS TO ENTERTAIN

Skits by college students, carol singing and a visit from Santa Claus will be on the program Monday evening when local Lions are hosts to their children at the club's annual Christmas party to be held at 6:30 o'clock at the Gettysburg College dining hall. It will be the club's last meeting of the year.

XMAS TREE ACCIDENT

Mrs. Harry Geeman, 78, Westminster, received treatment for a fracture of the left arm suffered Friday when she fell backwards while trimming a Christmas tree.

Xmas Buying Is Unprecedented

NEW YORK (AP)—Business hummed along this week at a swift pace, sparked by Christmas buying of unprecedented proportions, record steel production and stepped up automobile output.

Free-spending crowds jammed stores almost everywhere. Merchants were nearly unanimous in confidence that yule buying is headed for a record.

Retail trade's dollar volume was up from 1 to 5 per cent over a year ago. Biggest gains were registered in women's gift apparel, toys, television sets, furniture and household gifts.

Steel mills operated at an estimated 94.3 per cent capacity, a rate capable of turning out 2,671,000 tons of steel, the greatest tonnage on record.

Four Lutheran Units To Merge

CHICAGO (AP) — Four Lutheran denominations, representing three million members, have announced a tentative merger to become the largest Lutheran church body in the United States.

A joint commission on Lutheran unity Friday selected the name Lutheran Evangelical Church in America for the new body.

Under negotiations since 1956, the merger involves the American Evangelical Lutheran Church, the Augustana Evangelical Lutheran Church, the United Lutheran Church in America and the Finnish Evangelical Lutheran Church in America.

Plans call for a constituting convention in June 1962 with a target date of Jan. 1, 1963, for the new church to begin its corporate existence.

JOINT SCHOOL BOARD WILL ELECT MONDAY

The Gettysburg Joint School Board on Monday evening at the Gettysburg High School will elect a successor to Dr. R. D. Wickerham, who retired last week from the Gettysburg borough school board. He has been president of the local joint board since it was formed in 1948.

A president and vice president of the joint board will be chosen. Ralph W. Guise of Straban Twp. has been vice president of the joint board for the period that Dr. Wickerham served as president.

As part of the board's reorganization, the joint district's standing committees will meet separately to elect a chairman for each group. The committees include the joint school committee, the finance and planning, teacher and curriculum, transportation, property and supply committees. Each committee is made up of one representative from each member board with the exception of the joint school committee which has two directors on it from each school district in the jointure.

Monday's meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in Room 126.

The meeting will be the first session of the joint school board for six directors who were elected to boards in the joint district last month. The new directors from Gettysburg are Dr. Richard Newsham, Robert Weaver and Orville Orner. Donald R. Wolf is a new member of the Cumberland Twp. board. Stanley R. Wolf in Mt. Joy Twp. and Frank L. Bowersox in Freedom Twp.

Other business on the agenda for Monday evening will be opening bids for furnishing and installing window shades at the Meade School building where extensive remodeling is underway. The board also will open bids for a new hot water boiler and storage tank at the high school building. A leak in the present old heater several weeks ago left part of the high school without hot water for a day or more until the old boiler could be welded.

Notices of the meeting have been mailed directors by Kenneth G. Reinhardt Jr., the business manager and board secretary.

RECEIVES SCROLL

The Air Force Scroll of Appreciation has been awarded Dr. Walter C. Langsam, president of the University of Cincinnati, for rendering meritorious service to the U.S. Air Force and the Air Force ROTC detachment at the university. Dr. Langsam was formerly the president of Gettysburg College.

Ike's Peace Trip Opens New Chapter In History

By JOHN SCALI

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—President Eisenhower's spectacular visit to India led an Indian diplomat to predict today that it will open "a new chapter in world history."

M. C. Chagla, Indian ambassador to the United States, reported Prime Minister Nehru estimated the massive crowds that welcomed Eisenhower here Wednesday at 2 1/2 million—three times the size of New Delhi's reception for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in 1955.

The 2 1/2 million-figure is the biggest yet in estimates of the throngs which cheered, waved and crushed in upon the procession in which Eisenhower rode from the airport into New Delhi. Police had estimated 1 1/2 million.

Eisenhower seized a chance today for his first real daylight rest since the beginning of his good-will tour of three continents nine days ago.

With only two formal functions on his schedule, he relaxed at the

SELECT ORNER TO HEAD SCOUT FINANCE DRIVE

Jack H. Orner, Arendtsville, was announced today by Attorney Daniel E. Teeter, finance chairman for the Black Walnut Boy Scout District, as chairman for the district's 1960 fund campaign.

Orner will head a committee which will seek $9,000 throughout the county to carry on the work of Boy Scouting during the coming year.

Attorney Teeter, in announcing Orner's selection and the beginning of plans for next year's finance campaign, praised Harold Ecker, 1959 fund drive chairman, whose committee raised the $8,600 goal set for this year. Ecker, Attorney Teeter said, will serve as treasurer for the 1960 campaign.

JACK H. ORNER

Post For Tilberg

Dr. W. E. Tilberg, former Gettysburg College dean, will again serve as special gifts chairman. His division of the drive will begin its campaign January 2. The general campaign headed by Orner will begin its solicitations next February 5.

Orner, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold E. Orner, Arendtsville, is a 1951 graduate of Biglerville High School, attended Dickinson College and graduated from Thompson Business College, York. He is a member of the Navy Reserve at Harrisburg and is employed in the accounting department of the Knouse Foods Co-operative.

He was a member of the camping and activities committee of the Black Walnut Boy Scout District and served as director of the 1959 Camporee held at Fairfield, described as the best held in the district history.

He served on the 1959 finance committee as chairman for the Arendtsville area where contributions increased by 50 per cent over the prior high. He is a member-at-large of the Boy Scout district committee.

Two Are Injured In Auto Accident

Two persons were injured when their car ran off the road five miles north of here on the Fairfield Rd. at 3 o'clock this morning. State police said Nancy L. West, 22, York St., was driving east when she lost control of her car.

It left the highway and struck a utility pole, then crossed the highway and crashed into a ditch.

The 1956 car was demolished with police estimating the damage at $1,100.

Miss West was removed to the Warner Hospital in the Gettysburg Fire Department ambulance and treated for bruises on the face and neck. A passenger in the car, Fulton Martin, 19, Fairfield R. 1, was treated for lacerations of the left ear and contusions of the back.

The directory will list the new numbers of a number of business places to make it more easily accessible to subscribers. The directory will be listed alphabetically by businesses.

Merchants and others who wish to be included in the directory may do so by calling 640 and ask for the advertising department.

XMAS CANTATA TO BE GIVEN IN ARENDTSVILLE

Trinity Lutheran Church, Arendtsville, will present a Christmas cantata entitled "Music of Christmas" Sunday evening, December 20, at 7:30 o'clock. The program by Ira Wilson will feature the combined junior and senior choirs directed by G. David Bushman and Mr. Richard Slaybaugh, respectively. Bushman will also serve as organist.

Solo selections will be rendered by Mrs. Glenn Heckman, Mrs. Richard Allison, Miss Ann Bushey, Miss Anna Davis and Robert Carey. Supplementing the musical program will be a "presentation of gifts to the Christ Child" by various organizations of the church.

A second Christmas service to be presented Thursday evening, December 24, at 11 o'clock will be known as "The Christmas Eve Candlelight Service." The pastor, Maynard S. Barnhart Jr., will offer "Out of the Deep Night," a Christmas sermonette, and the Senior Choir will sing an anthem "The Living Song," while the Junior will present "O Holy Night," another anthem.

Candles will be distributed to the congregation who will sing carols during the candle lighting ceremony. The public is invited to these Christmas services.

The celebration of Christmas brought back the birthday party.

To the early Christians, it was unthinkable to celebrate one's birthday—much less the birthday of Christ. Birth meant the assumption of original sin and frequently the beginning of a life of persecution and perhaps martyrdom. Birthday festivities, moreover, were a pagan custom. The Pharaoh of Egypt and Herod celebrated their birthdays, as the Bible relates. But it was sacrilege even to suggest that a Divine Being had a birthday.

In the 300's, however, this attitude was beginning to change. World Book Encyclopedia reports that in the year 354 the bishop of Rome declared December 25 to be the anniversary of the birth of Christ.

But it took another pagan ritual to help establish Christmas. The ancient peoples of Europe had been accustomed to celebrating the winter solstice, when the sun seems to return to the Northern Hemisphere in late December. The pagan feast commemorating the victory of light over darkness was simply replaced by the Christian festival honoring the "Light of Life."

Plaster Model Of Lincoln's Head Is Given To College

Mrs. Prentiss Bassett, Huletts Landing, N. Y., has given Gettysburg College for its projected Civil War Institute the original plaster model of the head of Abraham Lincoln used by sculptor Gutzon Borglum in designing and producing the Mount Rushmore national memorial.

Borglum gave "the one-of-a-kind" collector's item to Mrs. Bassett before his death in 1941. She presented it to the college on a recent trip here. Dr. Robert L. Bloom, chairman of the college history department, and Dr. Harold A. Dunkelberger, development director and assistant to the president, accepted the museum piece for the school.

Donated Ten Books

"Gettysburg and Lincoln are inseparably related. We are most grateful to Americans like Mrs. Bassett who appreciate their great heritage and seek to preserve it by making possible a worthy treasure house of historical lore here," Dunkelberger said.

Mrs. Bassett, wife of a retired naval officer, last August gave Gettysburg College a limited-edition history of the Civil War containing many pictures taken by Matthew Brady, famed Civil War photographer. The collection was left her by her father, a veteran of Civil War service in the Union Army.

The college is currently campaigning for funds to convert its "Old Dorm" into a Civil War library and museum. The oldest campus building, it was used as an observation post and hospital for wounded of both sides during the Battle of Gettysburg.

Sculptor Borglum produced the North Carolina memorial on the Gettysburg Battlefield. It depicts five troops going into battle. His portrait heads in high relief at Mt. Rushmore, S. D., are his best known work. The heads of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt are hewn to a scale of 465-foot statues. The Lincoln head model given college can easily be held in one hand.

Coroner's Jury Rules Fatal Shooting Result Of "Romance" Argument

GET DAMAGES FOR ACCIDENT HERE IN 1957

A circuit court jury in Hagerstown Thursday night awarded a total of $30,775.04 to seven persons who originally claimed $207,000 damages as the result of a two-car accident in Adams County in September, 1957.

The accident involved Richard Leon Smith, of Cascade, Md., whose car crashed into the rear of a second vehicle operated by Warren M. Davis.

Mrs. Mary L. Barkdoll, and her husband, Glenn, of Sharpsburg, Md., asked a total of $72,000 from Smith and Davis. The Barkdolls were passengers in the Davis auto. Davis asked $65,000 for himself and his wife, Amelia, for injuries resulting from the accident.

In addition, Hilda Mose and her infant daughter, Jo Annette, also passengers in Davis' car, asked for $53,000. Mrs. Davis also sued Smith for an additional $17,000 for injuries to her daughter, Mary Ann Hoover, an infant.

The jury ruled that Hilda Mose and her daughter be awarded a total of $14,850.29, with Mrs. Mose receiving $14,687.79 of the sum.

In addition Mrs. Barkdoll was awarded $7,300 and Warren Davis, operator of the car struck by Smith, was awarded $6,691. Davis' wife, Amelia, received $1,000 for injuries, while the others received lesser amounts.

He was a lifelong member of the Piney Creek Presbyterian Church and had been an elder and Sunday School superintendent there for a number of years.

LOCAL CD DIRECTOR

County Civil Defense Director William G. Weaver has been appointed CD director for Gettysburg, the governor's office announced today. Weaver had been serving in both capacities, but the state CD headquarters asked formal appointment. Weaver was nominated by borough council for the local post last month and approved by the governor Friday.

A coroner's jury Friday afternoon, after hearing testimony for four hours and deliberating for another half hour, ruled that Lati-more Twp. Constable Arthur Criswell, 50, East Berlin R. 1, fired the shots which caused the death of John Elvin Divil, 27, East Berlin R. 2, steelworker, during "an altercation caused by Criswell's familiarity with Divil's wife." Criswell was on the witness stand at the court house for almost two hours.

Criswell admitted to "going with" Mrs. Divil, but said he had done so only since she and the late Mr. Divil had separated. He said he could not recall when that separation took place. Mrs. Divil admitted having had a number of "dates" with Criswell but when Coroner Dr. C. G. Crist asked whether the friendship "rippened into love," she responded, "No love."

Belt Of Bullets

The question was raised by Dr. Crist whether Criswell and Divil were "facing it out in a gun fight" when the two met on the night of November 19 on a lonely road between Two Churches and Bermudian. Criswell said his .32 caliber Spanish revolver was on the seat of his car. Divil, according to testimony of other witnesses and the pictures taken immediately after the death was reported, was wearing a gun belt filled with bullets and a holster for his .22 caliber target revolver.

Criswell said he was at Two Churches, investigating a complaint made by a woman of that area against her husband. He said Divil's car passed him several times. Then, he said, when he drove toward Bermudian Divil's car passed him and stopped in front of his car, forcing him to stop. He said he got out of his car unarmed because he did not notice that Divil was wearing a gun belt and holster, and had no idea there would be any shooting.

"Annoyed" By Divil

Criswell said he was annoyed by Divil's following his car so closely and "cutting off" his auto and wanted to talk with him. Criswell said Divil ran around the front of his auto, came up along the side of the auto away from the road and then started firing at Criswell, who, according to his testimony, was near the left front fender of his own car. Criswell said he dropped behind the fender when the shooting began.

The constable said Divil then came around the front of the Divil car and started shooting again. Criswell said he attempted to get into his own car, intending to flee. As he was about to enter his car he said Divil grabbed him by the collar of his coat and started to hit him on the head with the butt of his revolver. Criswell said that as he was being pulled away from his car he grabbed his revolver.

Admits Firing Twice

Criswell said blood from the cuts on his forehead caused by the pistol whipping blinded him and he felt his strength ebbing from being choked by Divil. As a last resort, he said, he shot. Criswell said he had believed he shot only once, but since two bullets entered Divil he must have fired twice.

Dr. C. Harold Johnson testified one shot entered Divil's chest cutting through the aorta and nicking the esophagus. That shot caused the death of Divil "within a very few minutes, maybe one or two." The other shot entered Divil's chest, entered the arm (Continued On Page 2)

MAKE APPEAL FOR FIRE-FREE XMAS SEASON

Americans across the nation are being asked to make this year's Christmas fire safe.

Last year, in the four days beginning at noon the day before Christmas, fire took 93 lives in the United States.

This was the largest fire toll for any four-day Christmas holiday period since 1951, when fire deaths totaled 111.

Last year's figure was sharply above the 27 deaths in the 1957 Christmas holiday period, and the 53 for 1956.

By coincidence the Christmas holiday toll of 93 lives last year was exactly the same as the loss of 93 lives in the school fire in Chicago on December 1 of last year.

Deaths Are Scattered

The school fire, with its toll of 93 lives, however, did not receive the same national attention because the Christmas fire deaths came in ones and twos and threes at scattered places throughout the country.

The loss of life in the Christmas period, however, was none the less appalling.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters estimates that three-fourths of all fires are caused by human carelessness or forgetfulness.

"Ordinary care can go a long way towards reducing loss of life by fire," the National Board said.

"Care during the Christmas holidays can keep Christmas merry, but care with fire can and should begin now, even before the holiday arrives."

The National Board pointed out that fires in 1958 took 11,500 lives and caused property damage totaling $1,056,266,000.

Burgess Returns From Alabama

Friday morning at the close of the orientation, the officers were shown the huge Jupiter missile now being constructed three for space flight.

Criswell is right handed according to the testimony.

Others who testified were: Mrs. Doris Runk, where Criswell resided, and Victor Runk.

Herter, Top Aides Leave For Important Paris Meets

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter took off today for Western strategy talks in Paris. He declared there is need for further improvement of the defensive strength of the North Atlantic Alliance.

Traveling in a Military Air Transport jet liner, Herter, Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson and Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. left from Andrews Air Force Base.

They were accompanied by a party of top aides and policy advisers, including Foy D. Kohler, assistant secretary of state for European affairs, and Charles E. Bohlen, Herter's new special adviser on Soviet relations.

Need More Funds
Herter, Anderson and Gates will represent the United States in a Cabinet-level meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council in Paris beginning next Tuesday. Herter is expected to make a drive for greater contributions by the main European allies, particularly West Germany and France, to the military strength of NATO and Europe.

He has indicated he also will ask European leaders to study ways of relieving the United States of some of the financial burden it now bears in connection with the maintenance of its own forces in Western Europe.

To Meet President
In his departure statement, Herter noted that on Dec. 18 he will go to Toulon, a French Mediterranean port, to meet President Eisenhower and return with him to Paris for a Western heads of government meeting. The conference will begin next Saturday and continue through the following Monday.

"While there appears to have been some easing of the atmosphere of crisis recently," Herter said, "the Soviet Union's willingness to take concrete action toward equitable settlements of major international problems remains to be demonstrated. Certainly nothing has happened to date to justify lowering our guard."

"The maintenance and further improvement of the defensive strength of the NATO alliance continues to be of the greatest importance."

AUSTRALIA'S SNOWY RIVER IS HARNESSSED

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — An exciting dream is coming true in Australia. The waters of the Snowy River soon will flow west to water the rich but dry plains of the interior.

Through the ages, this river, fed by the melting snow from Australia's Southern Alps, has emptied into the sea at the south-east corner of the continent.

Water has run to waste in the sea while the inland has been parched.

For a century Australians have dreamed of diverting the Snowy through the mountains to water the inland.

The dream is becoming a fact through the development of the billion dollar Snowy Mountains hydro-electric scheme.

In Solid Rock
The first major power station in the scheme, the size of a cathedral hallowed out of the solid rock 1,000 feet underground, is being opened this month.

The station will use water diverted under the mountains through a 14-mile tunnel.

Smaller power stations have been operating for some years, but the fundamental idea of diverting the Snowy River westward becomes a fact with the opening of the first underground power station.

Diversion of the Snowy waters will extend the prosperous irrigation areas along the banks of the Murray and Murrumbidgee rivers that meander through the states of Victoria and New South Wales into South Australia.

20 Years Old
These rivers today lack sufficient water for more irrigation without the Snowy diversion. The coastal country that will lose much of the Snowy River water is well-watered anyway.

The Snowy scheme is now 10 years old, and will take at least as long again to finish.

When complete it will have 11 power stations generating 25 million kilowatts of electricity, nine major dams and 56 miles of diversion tunnels.

It will make available every year enough water to cover two million acres to a depth of one foot.

Economists claim the electricity alone will be sufficient to justify the great cost.

The huge water diversion, paid for by electricity charges, will enable Australia to lift her food production by 66 million dollars a year.

Engineers estimate the Eucumbene Dam, biggest in the plan, will take 10 years to fill, allowing for water that will be used.

This dam has a capacity of 3,860,000 acre feet, enough to put nearly an inch of water over all of England, Scotland, and Wales.

RECOMMENDS JUDO TO CURE HOT HEADS

By GERALD MILLER

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Judo, a killer skill once used only by commandos, seems fast becoming as popular as party games.

Viola Maciejewski, a shapely housewife, is a happy part of it. With 40 other men and women from the middle walks of life she attends a night course at a suburban high school here under the tutelage of a burly ex-Marine lieutenant.

She and her classmates are head over heels in the trend as they crash to the mats with many a bone-jarring thud, and most speak highly of what they're learning.

"Personally, I think everybody should learn judo," declares Mrs. Maciejewski. "Believe me, nothing cools off a wise guy like a toss on his ear."

Equally enthused, for other reasons is William J. Moran, a white-haired, wispy gentleman of 76.

"Wouldn't guess I was that old, would you?" he asks, executing a quick dance step to demonstrate his spryness.

Key To Healthy
"Exercise and diet, that's the ticket. Key to health. Judo's wonderful exercise and I love it. I'll tell you something else, too, sonny. It's an art. Why, you could break a man's arm like a matchstick if you wanted. Wonderful."

Youngest in the class is Victor Drzakowski, a serious 17-year-old with a set of undulating biceps. For Victor, judo is preparation for the rough and tumble of life.

"I work out with the weights at home," he explains. "I saw the school was offering this class so I figured I'd go into judo for the self-defense. The way I figure it, judo's like in everyday living. It's either you or him."

Sheer chance and love of the dance brought G. Arthur Stephenson, a carpenter and a bachelor, into judo's rough embrace.

"I was signed up for a class in ballroom dancing," he recalls, "but they cancelled it. I thought this would make a nice fill-in."

He likes the course well enough but admits he's no fanatic.

"Judo's more educational than ballroom dancing, I guess," he observes. "It's not as much fun, though."

Brothers Sign
Brothers Herb and Harry Fry are meter adjusters who signed up for the course out of interest in all things athletic.

"We're sportsmen," says Herb, "but to tell you the truth this judo is pretty dirty for a sport. Boy, you can really hurt somebody."

And so it goes. One woman, a mother of four, comes to class simply to get out of the house once in a while. Many members say they have no particular use in mind for the judo they're learning.

They like the exercise, they like meeting other people and they would just feel safer if they knew how to protect themselves in a pinch if they ever had to.

WORM FARM IS BIG BUSINESS

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP) — This is the time of the year when business is booming at Mrs. Mabel Brinker's wiggly waggly worm farm.

Mrs. Brinker started raising worms six years ago, and now the worm farm keeps her tidily supplied with spending money.

She first got the idea of raising worms while reading an article on organic gardening. She sent for a batch — there were several thousand — and began raising them in the cellar.

The worms helped her solve part of another problem, too. In the rural area where Mrs. Brinker lives, there are no garbage collections. She used some of the family garbage in the box in the cellar where she installed the worm, and they thrived on it.

"Some of the neighbors told me I was crazy when I began raising worms," the 51-year-old housewife recalls. But she had the last laugh.

Multiply Rapidly
She soon discovered that worms multiply rapidly, and youngsters in the neighborhood soon discovered a convenient source of worms for fishing bait.

Word got around, and sporting goods stores began asking for supplies. Without even trying, Mrs. Brinker was in business.

Last year she supplied about 120,000 worms to stores for bait. She charges $8 for 2,000.

How does she count them? She doesn't. That job is done by her 11-year-old grandson, Bob Cosner of nearby Mechanicsville. He picks them out, one by one, and packs them in cartons, earning pocket money for himself with his work.

Gets Good Soil
In addition to the money, Mrs. Brinker gets excellent polling soil as a byproduct of the worm raising venture. This results from the worms burrowing in the soil and aerating it.

Mrs. Brinker's husband, Lester, who is manager of the Bucks

GOP FINANCES REPORTED GOOD

CHICAGO (AP) — The Republican National Committee under the chairmanship of Sen. Thurston Morton (Ky) went into closed-door sessions today for a rundown on party finances.

The study was expected to be an encouraging one. For Morton reported Friday that GOP prospects in the 1960 elections had taken a turn for the better because the party now was receiving "grass roots" financial support.

He said, too, that the party is solvent financially so he expected it to be ready for the strenuous campaigns ahead.

Morton reported that Republicans gain an intensive campaign to gain control of the House of Representatives with a possible two-million-dollar fund to finance the drive. The GOP House campaign last year cost about $900,000.

IKE DELIGHTED AT RECEPTION

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
NEW DELHI, India (AP) — President Eisenhower sat beaming on a sofa in the Indian government's magnificent Moghul Gardens today and greeted thousands of invited guests as they filed by him.

Eisenhower — encircled by a double cordon of panting security men — also went for a walk during the reception, with the crowd surging in on him from all sides.

The plush reception was given by Indian's President Rajendra Prasad.

As always, since he arrived in New Delhi Wednesday, Eisenhower was clearly delighted by the cordiality of the Indian people.

On a sofa alongside Prasad the American President must have bobbed his head more than a thousand times in greetings. His smile never disappeared.

The Moghul Gardens, six acres of exquisitely tinted beauty, are situated just behind the Rashtrapati Bhavan, Prasad's palatial home where President Eisenhower is staying.

MOON ROCKET IS SCRAPPED

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a move that will cost 17 million dollars, the government has scrapped the 65-million-dollar Vega moon rocket. It hopes to get better reliability with another rocket now on the drawing board.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Friday the abandonment of the Vega program may delay some of its deep space probes by three to six months.

But other projects connected with Vega may be speeded up, NASA said. These tasks will be assigned to a new Atlas-Agena space rocket believed more reliable than Vega. The Atlas-Agena may be ready for first flight about a year from now.

The deep space probes will now be powered by the Centaur rocket. Centaur may be ready to go sometime in 1961.

NASA said its move was to reduce the number of rockets used in the U.S. space program, and to "buy reliability," rather than to

U.N. Expected To Okay Plans On Outer Space

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Pressing toward adjournment, the U.N. is expected to give unanimous approval today to a Soviet-American plan to give the world body a voice in regulating peaceful uses of outer space.

A parade of nations from both sides of the Iron Curtain hailed East-West agreement on the controversial space issue in a lengthy night session.

The 82-nation Political Committee was slated to act next in a morning session.

The General Assembly then must ratify the plan before it winds up its business for the year — probably late tonight.

Had Secret Sessions
Both the United States and the Soviet Union urged unanimous approval of the proposal, which they worked out after three weeks of closed-door haggling.

Negotiations between U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov were kept under a lid of secrecy until the agreement actually was reached.

After several concessions by the West, the two agreed on a committee composed of 12 Western 7 Communist and 5 neutral nations, to serve a two-year term.

The resolution also calls for an international conference of space experts to be held under U.N. auspices in 1960 or 1961. The conference was proposed by the Soviets at the outset of this Assembly session.

Interests Widened
Now 59, he has not only preached rural development, but brought in agricultural experts for practical advice to his congregations.

Perhaps his biggest project has been organizing private foreign aid. In recent years he has loaded eight freighters with supplies for the needy overseas.

Korea is his special interest. In 1952, while a minister in Texas, he saw his Marine son off to war with advice about "looking to the future."

Son Bitter
Sgt. Walter O. Parr Jr., replied bitterly: "In a world like this, what's a young man to look forward to?"

After the farewell, Dr. Parr made a silent vow.

"If my son returns," he told himself, "I will load a ship like that troopship and send it to Korea with things of peace and goodwill."

The son returned. The vow was kept.

Dr. Parr organized the Texas Friendship Committee from his office at Fort Worth.

Large Crowd Views Colorful
Xmas Parade At Biglerville;
Give Prizes; Huge Choir Sings:
The Christmas season was ushered into Biglerville Tuesday evening in gala and colorful style as a big parade of gaily bedecked floats and the turning on the lights created a holiday atmosphere despite the cold.

A large crowd, estimated at about 5,000 wide-eyed children and their parents, watched in delight as the parade of floats gave a joyful preview of Christmas.
Thirty-two commercial and non-commercial floats anticipated the happy coming of Santa and the delights of Christmas day.
About 8 p.m. Rev. Nevin R.
Frantz, pastor of Trinity-Bender's church, Biglerville, called for the lights to be turned on.
Loud applause greeted the lighting up of the colored strings of lights and the four stars in the square. The Christmas season was officially underway in Biglerville and the lighting decoration will lend color and warmth to the holiday atmosphere.

Today's Talk

"COURAGE, GAIETY AND THE QUIET MIND"

The above words are from a prayer written by Robert Louis Stevenson. It is addressed to families who start the day with a prayer. Going to work for the day, with a prayer in mind and heart, can help any of us face the days problems and anxieties with courage, fearlessness and hope.

Stevenson was ill most of his life, but he never let himself down.
He never stumbled during a day, but accepted all its demands with
"courage, gaiety, and the quiet mind." Each one of us can do the same and make our prayer a thing of beauty and "silent" devotion.

There is medicinal power to an honest, sincere prayer of thank-giving, a plea for forgiveness, and spiritual guidance. The darkness within us soon evaporates, like a thick fog, and there is a ray of light that creeps into our consciousness with a will to enter our day with no misgivings.

How grateful we should be for every one of our blessings, which are so numerous, and which we can happily give to others, "without money and without price." Let us catch the ray of light which came to the lovely girl in Browning's poem "Pippa Passes." She worked in a silk factory with but one day of rejoicing out of her whole year. Mary Webb, the English writer, called this poem by Browning one of the finest in the English language.

Happiness is something any of us can have if we dedicate ourselves to its attainment. Mere possessions do not bring happiness. We create happiness within our hearts!

Just Folks

MY PREFERENCE
I'd rather have my little child
Be glad to see we drawing near,
Than have a world of grownups stand
At mention of my name and cheer.

I'd rather have that little child Run helter-skelter down the street
To greet me, than to be the man
That kings will condescend to meet.

I'd rather feel about my neck
Those childish arms in fond embrace,
Than be the petted friend of those
To whom a failure is disgrace.

The Labor and Industry Depart-

The index is based on 1947-49

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

B. F. M. MacPHERSON
"Here Lies Buried—"

The genealogical and historical study of the Round Hill Presbyterian graveyard is continued at this time with further notes on the Ferree family, French Huguenots, who fled from France, their home country, after the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes.

Last week in this column the inscription from the marker at the grave of Jacob Ferree was given. Buried beside Jacob Ferree is his wife, Elizabeth Ferree.

"Sacred to the memory of/Elizabeth/ wife of Jacob Ferree/
Born September 7, 1777/ Died
March 24, 1861."

1. Adams Centinel, Monday,
April 16, 1855.
"Died, March 29, 1855, Mr. Jacob Ferree, Tyrone Township, this county, aged upwards of 80
years."

2. Adams Centinel, Wednesday, September 17, 1817.
"Married September 4, 1817, by the Rev. Lebricht Hinch, Mr. Jacob Ferree to Miss Elizabeth Armoldt, both of Adams County, Pennsylvania."

Marriage Is Recorded
Note: The marriage record of Jacob Ferree, the son of Peter and Mary Ferree, to Elizabeth Arnoldt, as recorded in the local paper of that day.

The next grave in the Ferree
family plot in the Round Hill Presbyterian burial ground is that of a daughter of Jacob and Elizabeth (Arnoldt) Ferree. The inscription from the marker at her grave follows:

"In memory of/ Margaret/
daughter of Jacob and Elizabeth Ferree/ Born January 26, 1821/
Died August 30, 1849."

Adams Centinel, Monday, September 3, 1849.
"Died, Friday, August 30, 1849, Miss Margaret Ferree daughter of Mr. Jacob Ferree, of Tyrone Township, this county, aged about 27 years."

The next grave in the Ferree family plot poses somewhat of a puzzle to the historian and geneal-ogist. The inscription reads:

"In memory of/ Sally Ferree/daughter of Jacob Ferree/ Died September 26, 1821/ Aged 18
years."

Was Twice Married
Note: If the date on this tombstone is correct, and there is no reason to doubt its authenticity, Jacob Ferree was twice married and Sally Ferree was the daughter of the first union. Apparently the marriage record given above is that of his second marriage. In all probability the first wife of Jacob Ferree is buried at Round
Hill in an unmarked grave.

5. "In memory of/ Eliza Ferree/ Daughter of Jacob and Elizabeth Ferree/ Died August 15,
1841/ Aged 41 years."

Note: Another daughter of the first marriage of Jacob Ferree, Odd as it may seem the first wife of Jacob Ferree also apparently had the given name of Elizabeth.

This repetition of given names makes the genealogy of the Ferree family somewhat difficult to work out.

6. "In memory of/ Margaret/and 9 days."

Note:—The maiden name of Margaret, the wife of Peter Ferree, is not known—nor the place or date of her marriage.

7. "In memory of/ Peter Fer-

Aged 89 years, 2 months/ and 26

Note:—Included in the vital statistics of Adams County, for the year 1852, is the following data pertaining to Peter Ferree—
"Peter Ferree—White—Male.

(Hannah Ferree) apparently died unmarried.

COURT ORDERS BLUE LAWS TO BE ENFORCED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Except where law officials are specifically restrained by injunctions, Pennsylvania is expected to have its widest observance of Sunday store closings Sunday since the Legislature passed its Blue Law amendment last summer.

The amendment bans sales of specified items on the Sabbath and provides for increased fines for violations.

The United States Supreme Court in Philadelphia refused a similar stay to five Orthodox Jewish merchants in South Philadelphia.

Other Injunctions
A number of other restraining orders remain to be dissolved.
They include injunctions in Lancaster, Dauphin and Delaware Counties.

Harold E. Kohn, lawyer for the Two Guys, wanted a delay until an appeal of a lower court ruling could be filed and ruled upon.

Donald C. Wagner, city managing director, warned merchants police will be specially assigned tomorrow to look for violators.

"We're not announcing where we're going or to what extent we will investigate," he said.
From police reports city officials will determine what cases to prosecute.

Let's Look At The Record

JOHN PAUL JONES

Morison Tells Stories Of Naval Hero
Who Burnt Ships But Saved Love Letters

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

COMMODORE JOHN PAUL JONES WROTE, received, and filed all copies of too many love letters. Certainly his retention for posterity of the ecstatic, emotional aberrations from "Delia," La Comtesse de Nicolson, was a cadlike decision, even though La Comtesse was indeed sufficiently experienced that she should have known better than to entrust a salt water, beached bachelor with her reputation.

His other personal letters were often over long, opinionated, unreasonable, inaccurate and abusive. In the style of his day, Jones also strongly flattered his friends and bombastically attributed to himself noble but untarnished motives for the freedom of his fellow man.

But when it came to an official combat report, Jones wrote with "verve and skill, a model of what an action report should be, but seldom is." This quoted estimate of Jones' fourteen-page report of his cruise and battles of the "Bonhomme Richard" task force is from the pen of Samuel Eliot Morison.

DR. MORISON, Harvard professor and reserve rear admiral,
is the author of the widely read,
Pulitzer prize winning "Columbus,
Admiral of the Ocean Sea," 1942.
His currently appearing, top quality and monumental 14-volume history of the American Navy in World War II is even better known, if possible. Certainly Morison's opinion of the Jones skill at official reports should be conclusive. The above remarks on his private letters are the opinion of this reviewer.

ALL THIS SUGGESTS that, had John Paul Jones written more official reports and destroyed his personal correspondence, this man who forged the American Navy's first fighting edge would have been more clearly appreciated in his own day and since.

As it is, John Paul Jones has long lurked in the legendary shadows of quasi-history. Rear Admiral Morison now brings him from these shadows in one of the most authentic, sparkling, salt water biographies ever written.

The book, "John Paul Jones:
A Sailor's Biography" (Little Brown, $6.50), may not win for Dr. Morison another Pulitzer prize. That selection is by a committee no reviewer has ever outguessed. But it is a safe bet this volume will receive strong consideration before it is put back on the Pulitzer committee's book shelf.

Wage Rate Dispute
The questionnaires, he said, are designed to find out if potential arbitrators have been "brain-washed" by what he called a multimillion dollar propaganda campaign by railroads on the "featherbedding" issue.

The current dispute is mainly over wage rates and rules changes.
Railroads have charged there is rampant featherbedding enforced by the union. Featherbedding means requiring payment to employees for work not needed or in some cases for merely standing by doing nothing.

Leighly said the questionnaires asked potential arbitrators if they believe rail workers are overpaid; paid for work not performed; whether state laws require unneeded overloading of payrolls; whether railroads are in desperate financial straits.

WHILE THE ENGLISH were handing his name thus, sea chan-neys, songs and ballads concerning Jones were cropping up in sundry languages. The French adopted him as a part of their

SAYS XMAS CARD CHERUBS MAY BE IMPS

The Associated Press

The most precious little cherub on a Christmas card is likely to be an imp in real life. So says greeting card artist Sheila Beckett, whose angelic little Christmas card people are modeled by her sons, Sean, 3, and Ian, 13.

"Oh, they don't sit still while I draw," she laughs. "I just try to remember how little Sean looks when he's asleep and how Ian used to look as a small boy, and I look at old photographs, and go on from there."

Sean Interesting

Sean is at that interesting age, climbing all over Mom as she tries to draw, getting into the paints, racing away with the brushes. Aside from that he's an angel. A new dog, a basket bound, has been introduced on the family scene and Sean is paying him some attention.

Sheila draws everything from greeting cards to nudes. She does ribald readers and children's books. She likes to do costume drawings, because she's always had a yen to be a fashion designer or ballet dancer.

She has been painting for 13 years — displays, brochures, billboards, backgrounds for windows in Los Angeles, where she had moved from Portland,
Ore. — until she began the Christmas cards about seven years ago. She was born in Canada but lived in Ireland, her mother's home, during her teens.

"I always did my own Christmas cards and someone suggested I do them for others. I enjoy it more than anything else. I'm not really a painter, though. I draw and then sort of fill in the drawing with paint," she says.

Sheila's rich celestial scenes are best sellers each year. A typical one is a madonna-like figure, colorful flowers and a number of gay, angelic fair-haired children dancing about.

The family lives on two and a half acres in Ossining, N. Y. Her artist husband, John Frederick Smith, has turned to commercial photography, but can still help her with perspective in her drawing, she says.

Ian shows promise of becoming an artist, but flirts with photography now like Dad.

Warriors Lace West York In Opener 48-33; Play At York Suburban Tuesday

Gettysburg High launched its basketball season in successfully last Friday evening by outclassing West York 48-33 before a large crowd.

Except for a few brief seconds early in the first quarter when they fell behind 5-4, the Warriors were on top all the way and broke the game wide open with a 15-point spree in the third frame.

The Forney-men jumped out in front on a pair of quick goals by Bob Furney and Paul Dorr before Gary Ginter scored for the visitors. A foul by Dick Myers and a long by Larry Walker put the Bulldogs ahead 5-4 after 3:03 minutes. The Warriors took ahead for keeps on a short toss by Mike Small and pair of fouls by Dick Roth. At the end of the period Gettysburg led 14-7.

After Myers opened the second period with a short toss for the Bulldogs, Furney ripped the cords on a pair of jump tosses. West York spurted to cut the lead to 18-13 midway in the round before the Warriors surged again on a trio of goals by Roger Ecker and foul by Don Waddell to lead at intermission 25-17.

Take Big Lead
A pair of goals by Ginter and foul by Myers against a long toss by Harry Nichols enabled the visitors to pull within five points at 27-22 after four minutes of the third quarter. Seven straight points on two goals by Nichols, another by Roth and a charity heave by Small made it 34-22 before Barry King sank a foul for West York. A jump toss by Small plus a pair of lay-ups by Nichols made it 40-23 at the end of the period.

Gettysburg easily maintained its advantage in the third frame as Coach George Forney poured his entire squad into the game.

The all-around performance of the Warriors in their initial game was satisfactory and indicated they may develop into an outfit capable of giving all of their opponents a rough time.

Coach Forney used several combinations, most of which were effective. Mike Small was particularly effective in rebounding and came through with 10 points. Nichols topped the scorers, landing five of his six goals in the third quarter. Bob Furney was also a leading rebounder and chipped in with four goals. Paul Dorr and Jimmy Roth, who rounded out the starting group, gave promise of better things to come. The junior outfit of Rog Eckert, Don Waddell, Greg Matland, Ted Hise and Mark Eckert worked well and held their own.

West York, in losing its second game in three starts, was led by Gary Ginter who bagged six double-deckers.

Jaycees Defeated
In the preliminary game the Warrior Jaycees suffered a 34-29 setback after trailing throughout. The shorter Warriors pulled to a 25-25 tie midway in the last frame but then weakened. Jim McClellan bagged 14 points for Coach Mark Eckhart's outfit.

The Warriors meet York Suburban (6-3) on the latter's floor Tuesday and next Friday host Westminster here.

GRAND PRIX OF U. S. RACING IS GOING WITH 20

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — Twenty men who live for the thrill of speed roared away from the starting line today in one of 1959's most important automobile races, the grand prix of the United States.

At stake in the dangerous 218.4-mile battle is the world's road racing championship. In many countries, this is the most wanted of all sports titles and the winner is a star of awesome proportions.

In the pole position was Stirling Moss of England, runner-up to the champion.

His desire to reach the top was shown in the time trials, when he covered the 5.2-mile Sebring course in three minutes flat at an average of 104 miles an hour.

With Moss in the front row when the cars broke from a standing start with engines running were Jack Brabham of Australia and Tony Brooks of England.

This is the daredevil trio still in the running for the championship in this eighth and last grand prix race of 1959.

Brabham won the middle position in the front row of starters by turning a practice lap in 3:03. Brooks took the front outside position with a clocking of 3:05.9.

BERMUDIAN 5 IN FIRST WIN

Bermudian withstood a last ditch rally to top Dover 42-40 on the latter's floor Friday evening for its first cage triumph after two losses.

Dover led 14-13 at intermission after a slow first half but Bob Murphy's Bermudian outfit built up a 31-26 advantage entering the final quarter.

In the last period Dover started to slash the margin but Bermudian held on grimly to triumph.

Bob Weigle and Craig Hoke were the top point scorers for the countians with 14 and 12. Jim Graybill collected 14 for Dover.

The Dover junior varsity took the opening game 33-28.

Bermudian will play at Spring Grove on Tuesday.

BIGLER TAKES 44-43 VERDICT

In a pulsating finish featured by three long shots in the final 45 seconds of play, Biglerville High snapped a two-game losing skid and recorded its first victory of the season by edging Boiling Springs 44-43 Friday night on the Cannons' floor.

Boiling Springs was on top 41-40 with just 45 seconds remaining. Jack Frantz, Cannon acting captain, cut loose with a long heave from beyond center court which hit the mark but seconds later Meals of the Bubblers netted another long chuck. The clincher to the rip-roaring finish came on another outside toss by Fred Hartzel just before the final whistle sounded.

The game was closely contested all the way. Biglerville led 24-20 at half time but fell behind 33-32 entering the last frame.

Frantz and Hartzel sparked the well-rounded Cannon attack with 12 and 10 points. Meals and R. Brennan netted 15 and 13 for the Bubblers.

Coach Bernie Thrush was without the services of Ted Orner and Gordon Harvey due to injuries. Ken Fettes, a guard upon who Thrush had been counting upon this season is out for the season because of a leg injury received in football.

Biglerville made it a clean sweep by capturing the preliminary 38-32.

The Cannons will play at Mechanicsburg on Tuesday.

DUQUESNE AND PITT CAGERS IN SLIM WINS

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The University of Pittsburgh and Duquesne basketball teams pleased the hometown fans with slim victories Friday night in the first round of the annual Steel Bowl. Tonight they'll be battling each other with Pitt trying to duplicate last year's game when they whipped the Dukes for the title.

In two nip-and-tuck thrillers at the Pitt Field House, undefeated Duquesne edged William & Mary 53-52, then Pitt followed with a one-point margin over St. John's of Brooklyn, 74-73.

St. John's, the 1959 National Invitational Tournament champion, looked as though they were going to run away with the nightcap. The halftime score was knotted at 31-31, but St. John's flashed to a quick 54-43 lead.

Rallies For 15 Points
Pitt rallied for 15 straight points to forge ahead 58-54, a lead they never relinquished although it was trimmed to one point on a couple of occasions.

Billy Mauro paced the Panthers with 17 points. St. John's Tony Jackson had 19.

In the opener, William & Mary was knocked from the unbeaten ranks, Duquesne, now with a 3-0 mark, trailed 22-26 at the half. The Dukes did not take the lead until seven minutes before the end when they took a 42-40 advantage.

William & Mary's Jeff Cohen tipped in a field goal with one second remaining, but it was not enough for the Southern Conference team, which now has a 4-1 record.

William & Mary's Bev Vaughan was high scorer with 18 points. George Brown led Duquesne with 12.

William Mary will meet St. John's in a consolation game prior to the tilt for the crown between the Dukes and Pitt.

HOLIDAY CAGE TOURNEYS OPEN FRIDAY NIGHT

By JOHN CHALDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Steel Bowl at Pittsburgh and the Treasure State classic at Bozeman, Mont., Friday night opened a big list of major college basketball tournaments that will run through the Christmas Holidays. Next Friday, four more big tournaments will get under way.

But while Pittsburgh and Duquesne were setting up a hometown finale for the Steel Bowl for the second straight year, and Oklahoma City and Montana State gained the finals of the Bozeman affair, two Atlantic Coast Conference teams were making it tough for a pair of Big Eight Conference teams at Raleigh, N.C.

Favor Kansas State
Slightly favored Kansas State, defending Big Eight champions, was handed a 66-59 defeat by North Carolina State. Kansas, a winner over Northwestern and Texas Tech, was beaten 60-49 by North Carolina.

Pitt, soundly trounced by Ohio State and Purdue recently, pulled a shocker by downing St. John's of Brooklyn—the 1959 National Invitational champions—74-73. William & Mary, undefeated in four starts, was beaten by Duquesne 53-52.

Oklahoma City ran up to 40-26 halftime lead over San Francisco and sailed into the finals with a 71-54 victory. Larry Chaney led Montana State to a 81-75 victory over Oregon with 32 points.

Pitt, which beat Duquesne in the Steel Bowl final last year, trailed St. John's 43-54 in the second half. Then Pitt rallied for 15 straight points for a 58-54 lead and the ball game. Duquesne won its third straight, after trailing 22-26 at halftime.

Oscar Robertson led Cincinnati to a 123-79 victory over St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, scoring 48 points. In winning their fourth straight, the Bearcats went over 100 points for the third time this season.

M'PHAIL NEW ORIOLE PREXY

BALTIMORE (AP) — Lee MacPhail is officially the new president of the Baltimore Orioles, but Jim Keely, the outgoing chief, says he'll keep a hand in the team's operation.

MacPhail, tapped for the job by Keely when the latter announced his resignation, was formally promoted from general manager to president at Friday's board meeting.

Ending speculation that he might also sell his stock in the club, Keely agreed to remain on the board.

"Soft Word" Technique Of Ike Is Hailed; Popularity During Terms Continues

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's White House years, drawing toward a close, have introduced a new kind of politics in 20th century America: The technique of the soft word.

Whether or not you like or admire him, this is a fact: He went into office a highly popular war hero and has remained not only extremely popular but amazingly free of personal criticism.

We are now looking for a good example.

Possibilities Listed
The four Democratic senators being mentioned as presidential possibilities — John F. Kennedy, Hubert H. Humphrey, Stuart W. Symington, and Lyndon B. Johnson — are talking critically of the Eisenhower administration.

They even take oblique cracks at Eisenhower by saying what this country needs is leadership. But all of them are avoiding criticism of Eisenhower personally and by name.

He has remained so popular they might find it unpopular for themselves to do otherwise. The President's present trip abroad is another illustration: Always Welcomed

Everywhere he goes he is wildly welcomed since, no matter how Europeans and Asians may feel about the United States, their image of Eisenhower is that of a friendly, well-intentioned man.

It may be argued, since America has been so generous with aid to them and remains their chief protection against communism, that in welcoming Eisenhower they are in effect saying hello to Santa Claus.

But then you have to remember the Soviets always speak well of him, too. This becomes understandable in terms of Eisenhower himself when you look back over the record of what he has said since becoming President.

Convincing Talker
You almost never find him talking in terms which could be considered provocative or belligerent or hostile. Instead, he has emphasized patience and restraint even when talking firmly.

In addition, he has carefully avoided personal attacks on others, thus depriving them of any excuse for attacking him personally.

All this is in contrast to the attitude of many people, at home and abroad, toward, say, former presidents Truman and Roosevelt who were often up to their necks in fights.

It might be argued here that if Eisenhower had been as willing as Truman and Roosevelt to initiate new and controversial programs, and fight as they did for them, he'd be hit with brickbats.

But their temperaments were different from Eisenhower's. Both were more belligerent and both were more aggressive toward others, especially in showing irritation toward opponents.

Eisenhower, for instance, had plenty of excuse for hitting back at the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy but avoided it. He could have lashed out, but didn't, at Premier Nikita Khrushchev for some of the difficulties the Soviet created.

Whether or not all this adds up to the best kind of leadership is another, and long, discussion in itself. But certainly Eisenhower has been popular and free from abuse.

Influence Possible
This soft-word technique of Eisenhower may have a moderating effect on his White House successor or only because it has proved politically so successful for Eisenhower, if this success is granted.

That a successful politician is one who, through retaining high popularity, can get himself re-elected. By that definition, no one can argue Eisenhower has not been successful.

Some critics may argue that the key to Eisenhower's popularity is the result of his letting his lieutenants carry the load so that, if there is blame, it will be directed at them and not at him.

This doesn't hold water: Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson and the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles were beaten over the head for years for their policies. But Eisenhower didn't hide behind them. Instead, he supported them fully all the way.

That argument is fallacious for another reason: Truman and Roosevelt lieutenants—like Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes—were beset for years.

Career Diplomat Given Promotion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House said Friday President Eisenhower has named Foy D. Kohler, veteran diplomat, to be assistant secretary of state for European affairs.

Kohler has been deputy assistant since 1958. His formal nomination will be sent to the Senate next month. He succeeds Livingston T. Merchant, recently promoted to undersecretary of state for political affairs.

Kohler, 51, calls Toledo, Ohio, his home town. He is a native of Oakwood, Ohio, and has been in the foreign service since 1931 when he graduated from Ohio State University.

BELAFONTE IN SPECIAL ON TV THURSDAY

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Harry Belafonte made one of his occasional television appearances in a special Thursday night. It was a solid hour of American folk songs and dancing, with major but unspoken emphasis on the contribution of the Negro to both.

The songs ranged from religious to funny and Belafonte, lithe and graceful as a tiger, moved easily from mood to mood. He was assisted by a chorus of fine voices, a troupe of excellent dancers and a wonderful deep voiced singer called Odetta.

This was immediately followed on CBS by an original play by Davis Shaw called "The Tunnel." This reviewer, no Civil War buff, suspects the plot was based on a real military incident in 1864—and if it was not, the reputation of some Northern generals were kicked around.

Harsh, Man's Show

The plot was primarily concerned with the digging of a tunnel by Union forces to a point under a Confederate position. Richard Boone played a tough, cynical colonel and Rip Torn, his younger idealistic subordinate.

The tunnel was dug, the position was blown up and the maneuver was a disaster because of high echelon politicking. The final scenes, however, were a grisly editorial against human slaughter. Some of the scenes in the crater after the explosion were a bit strong for a Playhouse 90 living room audience: screams of the wounded, the sight of maimed dead and dying. It was a harsh, taut man's show.

Sweden's Severest Blizzard Fading

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The worst blizzards in living memory faded away in south and central Sweden Friday.

Gale force winds dropped to a stiff breeze. The snowfall ended over most of the seriously affected areas.

But off the Swedish northeast coast high winds continued. The salvage ship Titan with a crew of seven was reported still missing and believed sunk. It had been sailing to assist another ship, the Birgitta.

Hundreds of persons were treated for broken limbs or other storm injuries.

Two persons were killed in traffic accidents near Uppsala.

Arrest Fugitive Sought Since 1958

PELZER, S.C. (AP)—Joseph Lloyd Thomas, one of the nation's most-wanted fugitives, was captured Thursday night by FBI agents.

Officers said Thomas surrendered quietly when arrested at a service station. The FBI said Thomas, former Terre Haute, Ind., restaurant owner, wanted on a federal indictment as one of three men who robbed the Commercial National Bank of Shreveport, La., of $34,000 Feb. 13, 1958.

Two of the bandits were captured and the third, identified as Thomas by the FBI, escaped. Thomas had lived here for the past year with his wife and two daughters under the name of George Clark Ashley. He operated a used car business here.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—When Stella Starkey heard burglars in a drug store underneath her apartment she telephoned both city and county police.

Because of confusion over the location of city limits city police mistakenly thought the store was in the county. They arrived 18 minutes after the call.

County police thought it was in the city. They arrived 1½ hours later.

Scribe Says Johnson Is Acting Like Candidate

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the season when presidential hopefuls beat the bushes and prowl the prairies, talking, watching, counting, wishing. Associated Press political writers have been traveling with potential candidates, taking a close-up look at the men who could wind up in the White House. Here Arthur Edson, 15 years an observer of the Washington scene, reports on three eventful days in the life of a man who insists he isn't a candidate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

By ARTHUR EDSON
MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa (AP)—Of all the coy presidential aspirants who flit around the land, none is harder to figure than the tall, ambitious, hard driving Texan, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Johnson acts like a candidate. He hustles from spot to spot, in his own twin-engineered, six seater plane, like a candidate. His words are the words of a candidate.

He even smiles good like a candidate should.

Not A Candidate
But publicly and privately Johnson will assure you that he's no candidate. Since he's making no effort to win the Democratic presidential nomination, he says, he hasn't a chance.

Johnson's own explanation of what he's up to seems true enough. He's the Democratic leader in the Senate, responsible for legislating for all the people. He should see what's happening outside of Texas, and he often does when Congress isn't in session.

But as you watch and listen and wonder, a few impressions fall into place.

Shrewd And Careful
No man is more skilled at counting the political house than Lyndon Johnson. He's such a shrewd and careful political leader that even Republicans in the Senate sometimes speak of him in awe and in envy.

Johnson is proud that the lights in his office burn late as he and his staff check and recheck on how other senators plan to vote. But Johnson doesn't have to stay up late at night to discover this fact of political life: Since the Civil War, the door of the White House has been locked tight against all Southerners.

Johnson knows it, and Johnson resents it.

Convention A Humdinger
His resentment shows up in such comments as this one made while he was speaking up for additional civil rights legislation.

"We must purge ourselves of all bigotry, whether it's against a majority or a minority, whether it's against a class or a section." Here Johnson paused significantly. "And I'd like to emphasize 'section.'"

Johnson probably will go to the national nominating convention next summer with a good lineup of Southern votes, as well as others he will pick up in the Mountain and Western states.

The convention should be a humdinger.

If it should come to an uproarious stalemate, a man of great persuasive powers, who knows when to move and when to lie low, might make great progress.

Jack E. Froelich, satellite project director at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, was a football cheer leader in Burbank, Calif., High School.

WILL APPEAL DAMAGE SUIT

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—An $852,074 damage suit against 24 eastern railroads will be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The Pennsylvania Railroad, one of the lines involved, announced the move Thursday after the U.S. Third Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the verdict.

By a 2-1 decision, the court upheld an opinion by U.S. District Judge Thomas J. Clary who ruled in favor of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn. on July 22, 1958. The truckers charged the 24 railroads and Carl Byoir and Associates, a New York public relations firm, with conspiracy in the restraint of trade.

They argued the parties had conducted a campaign of vilification against the truckers.

Judge Clary's opinion ordered the railroads, members of the Eastern Railroads President's Conference, and the public relations firm to pay $852,074 in treble damages and $200,000 in counsel fees.

New Luxury Appliances Fine Gifts For Milady

When you are Christmas shopping for the "lady of the house" a thoughtful gift list might include some of the new luxury items that will make her life and the family's so much easier.

One such gift might be a set of ovenware inlaid with feminine design. The set includes sauce pan, fry pan and percolator and comes complete with its own cradle dish for serving from the oven to the table. Also for her kitchen, the lady of the house would appreciate a portable mixer in a pastel color to match her kitchen. An unusual gift would be an electric can opener or an electric knife sharpener.

Gold Coffee Maker

Every woman enjoys a mid-morning coffee break and she would enjoy it more with a coffee warmer in Pyrex or a pastel pottery. For special occasions she would be proud to serve her coffee from an automatic coffee maker in 24-carat gold plate.

If the woman of the house has a busy time at breakfast a perfect gift would be the new four-slice toaster. She would also enjoy preparing a breakfast delight of waffles on a combination automatic grill and waffle maker.

Cleaning the kitchen floor is never pleasant but you can make it easier with a Christmas gift of an electric floor polisher. This unit scrubs, waxes, polishes floors and even cleans rugs.

Other Electric Pieces

For a more personal gift for the lady, you might purchase a lady's electric shaver or an electric hair dryer. A steam iron is almost a necessity and now they have one for the woman who travels, in a portable model. For her relaxing hours you might purchase a transistor radio in the pocket size or one with a short wave unit.

Clocks are always a popular gift and this year they have a new one that will allow milady to catch an extra 40 winks. It is the snooze alarm clock that buzzes once to wake you and again in 10 minutes to be sure you're up. All these gifts would delight any lady of the house and give her more time with the family.

The Glades Buggy has tires so large they will float the buggy and passengers over occasional deep water encountered in the Florida Everglades.

SENTENCE MAN WHO BEAT SON

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A father, whose son died after a beating for taking food from the ice box, was sentenced to 3 to 10 years in prison Friday for second degree murder.

Three judges of Quarter Sessions Court agreed on the sentence for Robert H. Monroe, 31, of Philadelphia. They said he was regarded as a good father and had not intended to kill his son, only to punish him.

Six-year-old Thomas Monroe became ill after the beating and died. That was August 8. Seven days later Monroe told police his son disappeared during a shopping trip and might have been kidnapped.

Alarms were put out and an intensive search was conducted. But on August 28, Monroe, after a lie detector test, admitted to police what had happened. He led them to a shallow grave under a railroad trestle where the boy's body was found.

"Two for the Seesaw" deals with the love affair of a young lawyer from Omaha, who leaves an unsuccessful marriage to find a new life in Manhattan. While in New York, he meets a young, off-beat dancer whose pixie charms involve him in an intriguing, intimate relationship.

3 FUGITIVES ARE CAPTURED

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—Three dangerous convicts from a mass breakout in North Carolina were recaptured Friday night when they became lost in this mountain town.

State police Sgt. James Cox said one prisoner was arrested downtown and his two companions fled—only to return by mistake when they became lost again.

"Nobody resisted, nobody got hurt," Cox said. "A city policeman nabbed one and the city officers got the other two a short time later."

He identified the fugitives as: Wilder Cummings, 39, convicted of armed robbery at Wilkesboro, N.C.; John R. Kilbourn, 39, convicted of armed robbery at Winston-Salem, N.C.; and Johnny Lee Miller, 28, sent up for manslaughter from Henderson County, N.C.

The three were among 20 convicts who broke out of the maximum security prison at Ivy Bluff, N.C., Tuesday, taking a small arsenal with them. Three still are at large.

Two pistols were found in the men's car.

Peter H. Wold, 77, ship commander who rescued the glacier priest, Father Hubbard, in the Shelikoff Strait in 1931, died Thursday.

Nehru Cites Importance Of Ike's Peace Mission

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru today called President Eisenhower's visit to India "a pilgrimage in quest of peace," of special significance at this time in world events.

Nehru said "it's obvious it would anyhow be of significance," but events in Asia and other parts of the world increase the visit's importance now.

Nehru said the visit had to be viewed in the context of "peace, cooperation and freedom and in the context of events here, in Asia, and in the world."

He did not elaborate on which events he had in mind.

Talks To Reporters

Nehru spoke to reporters in a press room established by the Indian government for coverage of Eisenhower's stay in India.

During a tour of press facilities, Nehru received three messages from cable officials in London and New York noting his presence in the press room.

Responding to the messages in a telegram, Nehru said Eisenhower's "visit is news for the entire world and it is right that its significance is recognized everywhere."

When asked by reporters for elaboration on this statement, the prime minister said the signifi-

BABY SEA LION ESCAPES POOL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sandy the baby sea lion may not slide down the chimney with Santa Claus at the home of Robert F. Kennedy this Christmas.

The little fellow with the big whiskers and appealing eyes was supposed to. But he's missing.

Kennedy, former chief counsel of the Senate Rackets Committee and brother of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), had bought the sea lion as a surprise Christmas gift for his seven children. They range in age from three months to eight years.

Chocolate-colored Sandy was flown here from San Francisco Thursday afternoon. They put him in a cage and then lowered the cage into the swimming pool on the grounds of the Kennedy home in suburban McLean, Va.

But Friday, when a handyman came to feed Sandy, the 95-pound, 2½-foot bundle of friendliness was gone. Mrs. Magda Kraxner, the housekeeper, called the police. But they couldn't find Sandy.

"Someone may have taken him or else he was able to get under the four-foot wire fence surrounding the pool," Mrs. Kraxner said.

By HAROLD K. MILKS
HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's regime Friday arrested a second foreign newspaper correspondent after the recapture of American Frank Austin Young.

Army intelligence agents picked up Ian Aitken, 30, chief U.S. correspondent for Lord Beaverbrook's British newspapers, less than 24 hours after he returned from an investigation of Young's escape from a jail in Pinar del Rio, in western Cuba. Although Lord Beaverbrook's family name is Aitken, he and his correspondent are not related.

Cuban agents Thursday arrested James Buchanan of the Miami (Fla.) Herald. They said he was entering the Havana Hotel room in which they had seized Young shortly before.

48-Hour Freedom
Young, a 38-year-old pilot-adventurer from Miami, was sentenced to 30 years in prison Tuesday in Pinar del Rio for conspiring against Castro's government. He escaped Wednesday and made his way to Havana, but his freedom lasted less than 48 hours.

Cuban agents claimed Buchanan was bringing bandages to Young, who had hurt his leg in the escape. Two armed agents picked up Aitken after midnight at the Havana office of the New York Times, where he was talking with the Times correspondent, Mrs. Ruby Hart Phillips, and Edward Scott, a British national and correspondent for the National Broadcasting Co.

Three Are Questioned
The two agents questioned all three, then searched the office as though looking for another person.

It appeared that the Cubans were picking up all persons who had close contact with Young and Peter John Lambton, 24, British-born co-defendant with Young, who was sentenced to 25 years in prison. Aitken, who came here 10 days ago from New York, had interviewed both in Pinar del Rio.

Officers said Buchanan, who flew to Havana Thursday afternoon, was being held for investigation.

Better Weed Killer; Shade Tree Care Listed By Agent

By FRANK S. ZETTEL
Adams County Farm Agent

Recommendations change as more research and study is done. This is particularly true when it comes to agricultural chemicals. Several important changes in the use of weed killers have recently been made. These changes will effect established practices here in Adams County.

One important change pertains to the use of 2,4-D. Until further notice, the use of any forms of 2,4-D is prohibited on pastures.

Many armers have been using this weed killer to control wild garlic and various other weeds in pasture.

These changes in recommendations do not necessarily mean that these materials had been harmful in the past but that more study needs to be made to determine their safe usage. We in extension intend to make every effort to keep you informed of the latest changes and uses of agricultural chemicals.

Feed Shade Trees Now

If garden chores pile up on you in the spring maybe you can get some of them out of the way now. Shade trees can be fed in the fall and early spring. Right now is a good time for it.

Some of the fertilizer applied now will be used before the ground freezes completely and some will be available when growth starts next spring.

Mature lawn and trees along the street should be fed about every three years. Young trees need annual feeding if you want them to grow rapidly.

A high nitrogen fertilizer, such as 10-6-4 or 10-5-5 is used for most shade trees! At least two-thirds of the nitrogen should be organic. Apply the fertilizer in a series of holes which extend from the drip line of the branches to two-thirds of the distance toward the trunk. The holes may be made with a crowbar or electric soil auger or with a shovel. They should be 12-18 inches deep—below grass root depth—and one to two feet apart.

Two to four pounds of fertilizer for each inch of trunk diameter is sued or the large shade trees. Smaller trees take one pound per inches of the diameter. Put a half pound or less of the fertilizer in each hole.

Soak the area down after feeding to start the fertilizer going into solution in the soil thereby preventing root damage.

Need Good Mulch

Killing frosts are a warning to growers to oput their strawberry patch to bed for the winter. Plantings need not be mulched until the temperature drops to 20 degrees.

Use good mulching material, preferably seed-free wheat straw. Other straws, early-cut hay, chopped cornstalks, leaves, and pine needles also may be used. These materials need to be free from seeds, and neither too heavy nor too light in weight. Cover the plants to conceal all plant leaves. The amount of material will vary from 1 to 5 ton per acre, and average about three tons. Plants require more protection in severe winters.

Intermittent thaws during the winter cause unmulched strawberry plants to heave from the soil and become subject to winter injury. Temperatures below 15 degrees injure the tissues of the plant crown.

Santa and the ICE KING

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: After a long journey across the ice sea, Ononik has finally reached Santa Land. Much to his dismay, he finds Santa suffering from the Ice King's wrath as much as the Eskimos of his own village.

Chapter Six A TALK WITH SANTA

Ononik ran down to the barn. The door was blocked by snow. He knew someone was inside because he could hear voices and every now and then the tap of a reindeer's hoof.

Ononik went around to the side of the barn. There he found a ladder leading up to an enormous window high above. He had never seen a ladder before. He climbed it fearfully. When he was near the top he looked down and when he saw Keotuk way below he grew so dizzy he almost fell. Shutting his eyes, he went up the rest of the ladder and climbed in the window.

He found himself at the top of a vast pile of hay. At the bottom of the pile was Santa Claus. He knew it was Santa because he was fat and round and wore a red suit and had silvery whiskers. But he didn't look gay and merry the way Ononik had always pictured him. He looked sad and worried.

He was talking to a crooked-legged dwarf with large, floppy ears and the two of them were gazing unhappily at eight skinny reindeer.

"It's no use, Tweedleknives," Santa said. "I'm going to let them go. I can't keep them here to starve."

"If only they'd eat meat," dwarf, "Or cookies. Or vegetables. Or something."

"They want moss," murmured Santa Claus. "They can't understand why summer has not come. I'll turn them loose. They can go somewhere where there's bound to be summer in August as it should be."

"But what will you do when Christmas comes?" exclaimed Tweedleknives. "With no reindeer how will you make your rounds?"

"I don't know," Santa shook his head. "Perhaps there won't be Christmas any more. Who knows? Anyway, I'm turning them loose."

"We'll never get the door open, blocked by snow."

"They can fly out the window," replied Santa. "That is if they still have the strength to fly."

"Come now," he said gently, patting the reindeer. "Fly away and find some summer feeding ground."

At last Santa said, "Very good, son. We will go."

The reindeer looked around uncertainly and then, tapping their hooves three times on the floor, they flew gracefully upwards straight to the window where Ononik sat.

"Wait, wait!" cried Ononik rising to his feet. "Don't let them go!"

But it was too late. The reindeer brushed past him, one by one, into the sky.

Then Santa called out, "Who on earth are you?"

Ononik slid to the bottom of the pile of hay. He landed with a plop at Santa's feet. "I'm Ononik the Eskimo boy," he said. "And I came to you because my people are being destroyed by the Ice King's anger."

"Ah," said Santa, "so are we, my boy. And it is the same everywhere. Only yesterday I had a letter from a child who said that though it was August she had not yet had a chance to use the bathing suit I brought her last Christmas. Another child wrote that he was still using the ice skates I brought to him. So you see, the whole world is cold."

"But you must stop the Ice King!" cried Ononik.

"I?" said Santa. "Of course! You are the most powerful, the bravest, the wisest one on earth. You are the only one who can stop the Ice King."

Santa pulled his pipe from his pocket and slowly filled it. "Tell me," he said, "How shall I stop the Ice King?"

"Why," said Ononik simply, "by going to him and telling him to stop."

Now the crooked-legged Tweedleknives growled, "What nonsense! If Santa went to see the Ice King who knows what might happen to him!"

"I'll go, too," protested Ononik. "I — I could help!"

"You!" snorted Tweedleknives. Santa then he looked for a long time into Ononik's eyes. At last he said, "Very good, son. We will go."

8 Pennsylvanians Visit Rockefeller

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight Pennsylvania Republicans, out to satisfy their curiosity, met with Gov. Nelson Rockefeller Thursday.

They appeared favorably impressed with his potential as a GOP presidential nominee.

Edward Howard, a Doylestown, Pa., businessman, said the group, which does not represent any political organization, talked about political philosophy and problems of the Republican party.

Howard said Rockefeller gave no indications of whether he would be a candidate for the nomination.

He said the governor granted the half hour interview to satisfy their curiosity about his potentialities and with the understanding that he was not trying to start a "Rockefeller-for-president" movement in Pennsylvania.

Howard added Rockefeller would, however, "make a terrific, outstanding president."

The United States has more than 7,000 hospitals.

Family Of 3 Lived In Car Five Months

DETROIT (AP) — A woman picked up for speeding in suburban Grosse Pointe Shores told police Thursday night that she and two young daughters had been living in their 1953 automobile since July.

Delores Zamojen, 30, said she was divorced and her former husband was living somewhere in Pennsylvania. The daughters are 6 and 7.

She told police she lived with friends here until July when she moved out "because we didn't want to be a bother."

She said she had applied four times to the city for aid to dependent children, but had been turned down each time. To provide food and gasoline, she said she had worked as a waitress, babysitter and laundress.

On warm nights, she told police, she and the two children stayed in public parks. On cold nights, she said, she kept the car running and the heater on.

Plan Rich Stakes For Harness Races

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—Two top breeders of standardbred horses are planning the richest harness races in Pennsylvania history.

The two announced Friday they will add up to $24,000 annually to a series of races at the Carlisle Fairgrounds to "provide high class harness horse racing for Central Pennsylvania."

They are L. B. Sheppard, president of the Hanover Farms, and Max Hempt, owner of Hempt Farms, Mechanicsburg.

When the program is in full swing, in 1961, the series of eight races—to be called "The Hanover and Hempt Farms Stakes"—will be worth a total of at least $120,000, Sheppard and Hempt estimate.

Second place was taken by the seventh grade and third prize was won by the tenth grade.

The crowning of the king and queen took place Saturday night. Hannah Lippincott was crowned queen by Carol Stieley, who was queen last year, and John Rinehart was crowned king by Richard Clingan. Runners-up were Joan Clingan and Billy Foglesong.

Gene Eyer led the Tiger attack with 33 points. The JV Tigers also won by the score of 31-24. Roy Chapman was the leading JV scorer with 10 points.

Ike's Asian Reception Is Boon For Summit Meet

By JOHN SCALI

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—President Eisenhower's triumphal tour of Asia powerfully strengthened his voice for the East-West summit conference with Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Eisenhower can sit down at the conference table backed by the cheers of millions of Asians who regard him as a symbol of peace with freedom.

Khrushchev will be facing a man who is proving to be his superior in appealing to Asia's teeming, underfed masses as a champion of their aspirations.

The hysterical, sometimes worshipful, reception in Turkey, Pakistan, Afghanistan and India also may stimulate Eisenhower to exert more leadership at the Western summit session, opening in Paris Dec. 19, which begins shaping the West's negotiating position.

The diplomatic showdown with Khrushchev comes later, perhaps in April.

The frenzied reception by 1½ million Indians Wednesday stands out as a high point in the first week of Eisenhower's unprecedented goodwill trip.

Crowds Impress
Eisenhower and his top aides have been flabbergasted by the crowds which seemed to grow bigger and more deliciously enthusiastic at each stop.

Even before setting out, Eisenhower said he felt it his duty to make the tour because his name meant something in these areas and it might help in the quest for an enduring peace. The President was understating.

In each country he has visited the government has directly or indirectly encouraged the people to show their like. But the fervor of spectators and the obvious sincerity of their cheers show the majority would have turned out anyway.

In the displays of public enthusiasm, these factors appear to stand out.

1. Eisenhower the man has an international asset that Khrushchev can't match, his personality.

2. Eisenhower comes at a time when these peoples are linked in a common fear of communism, either the Soviet or Red Chinese variety. Eisenhower is regarded as the symbol of a powerful friend and potential partner in battle against aggression.

NEW YORK (AP)—The lights on Rockefeller's Plaza annual Christmas tree are glowing again. About 5,000 persons watched Thursday night as more than 4,000 red, white and green globes on the 70-foot Norwegian spruce flashed on.

Doctor Offers Advice On Preventing Holiday Mishaps

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

The Associated Press
Let's deck the halls with holly, but let's keep the decorations safe. Christmas wouldn't be Christmas without a tree and a few sprays of evergreen around the house. Neither would Christmas be Christmas if the tree catches fire or some member of the family is badly hurt.

Let's review some of the special Christmas hazards and how to avoid them.

Trees Flammable

Christmas trees are evergreens filled with pitch and resin, both of which are highly flammable materials. As long as the tree is outdoors it contains a lot of moisture but inside our dry heated homes the moisture quickly evaporates from the tree but the pitch and resin remain. The less water in the tree the more burnable it is. While the tree is inside the house keep it as fresh as possible. Put the base in a stand filled with water and make a slanted cut across the base of the tree to help absorb water. Watch the water level in the container and replenish it as it disappears. Keep the tree in the coolest spot in the room, away from radiators or open fireplaces. Also put it in a place where if a fire did occur and the tree should fall it would not block the doorway.

Lights Deadly

Electric lights are the greatest source of Christmas tree fires. Buy only electric decorations that carry the seal of the Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., which means they have been tested for safety. Inspect insulation and sockets, especially of electric equipment saved from previous years. The plug should be far enough away from the tree so that no possible spark could get to the tree. Long loose electric cords should be taped to the baseboard so that neither children, pets, nor adults will trip over them.

Do's And Don'ts

Here are a few do's and don'ts to keep your Christmas happy and free from unnecessary accidents:

1. Do keep your tree in a water-filled base.
2. Do keep your tree away from radiators and open fireplaces.
3. Do place your tree where it will not block exits even if it should fall.
4. Do use safe electric equipment and inspect it frequently to keep it safe.
5. Do stand on a sturdy ladder when decorating upper branches.
6. Do remove electric lights from areas where needles have turned brown.
7. Do use an electric outlet far enough from the tree to eliminate the danger of flying sparks.
8. Do use only weatherproofed cords and lights outdoors.
9. Do hang outdoor lights with the sockets down so they will not collect water.
10. Don't leave cords trailing on the floor.
11. Don't smoke near the tree.

JOHN DIEMAND TO GET MEDAL

NEW YORK (AP)—The Pennsylvania Society's annual dinner takes place here tonight, primarily to award the society's gold medal to John A. Diemand of Philadelphia, president of the Insurance Co. of North America.

The society, an organization of New Yorkers with close ties to the Keystone State, awards the medal each year for outstanding work in the improvement of human relations.

Presenting the award to Diemand will be Benjamin F. Fairless, former board chairman for U. S. Steel and president of the Pennsylvania Society.

The principal speaker will be Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, pastor of Christ Church, New York City, and head of the Board of World Peace of the Methodist Church.

Father Arrested For Beating Son, 8

EUREKA, Calif. (AP)—An 8-year-old boy collapsed in his schoolroom at Miranda, 55 miles south of here. Teachers found Michael Kramer's body covered with lash marks.

The boy was brought to Humboldt County Hospital here. His father, Keith, 39, a logger, was arrested and charged with cruel and inhuman punishment of a child.

Michael was reported recovering.

Fighter Bomber Sets Speed Record

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—An F105 Thunderchief fighter-bomber has surpassed the world speed record for a closed course several times in the last few days, the Air Force said Friday.

The existing record of 1,100.426 m.p.h. on the 100-kilometer course is held by the French air force.

The new mark was not announced, pending confirmation by the National Aeronautics Assn.

Brig. Gen. Joseph Moore, commander of the 4th Tactical Fighter Wing at Seymour Johnson AFB, N.C., was the pilot.

Soviet Plane Is Seen On Ice Floe

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—A twin-engine Soviet plane was reported sighted on an ice floe off the Greenland coast Friday.

A U.S. Air Force pilot on patrol duty said he spotted the plane, but was unable to tell whether it was in trouble.

He reported the location and a rescue plane from the U.S. Air Force base near here was ordered out. Dense fog closed in, however and prevented a search.

Base officials said patrols will be sent out Sunday to see if the craft is in trouble.
